Sued for Sixteen Years' Subscription.

Editor H. F. Stapel of Rock Port, in Atchison county, secured the verdict in a suit against Charles Traub for $24 for sixteen years' subscription to his paper. The Mail gives the following account of the suit:

"The suit was brought on a long standing account, and among other items was a sixteen years' subscription for the Atchison County Mail. Mr. Traub refused to pay for the Mail, claiming that he did not take the paper, and that he had refused to take the paper from the postoffice and mail box a number of times. The plaintiff proved by postmasters, deputy postmasters and others that Mr. Traub did take the paper during all these sixteen years. In the case it was shown that, according to law, even if a subscriber does occasionally order a newspaper discontinued or refuse to accept it, he cannot get out of paying what he owes for the paper, and the subscriber must pay the arrearage before stopping the paper. The jury in this case was out only a short time and brought in a verdict for the entire account, including the subscription for the Mail—sixteen years at $1.50 a year, or $24. The costs in the justice court and the circuit court amounted to about $100 besides the attorney fees."

RIVER IS GETTING LOW.

The 102 river is getting pretty low, and in several places at the river you are able, it is said, to walk across it. Only a little water is running over the dam near the pump house. While the water company has plenty of water on hand in their lake and reservoirs, still the fact remains that the river is getting low, and that the conditions might be the same as last year in Maryville, when there was no water at all. Of course, a few good rains would help out.

Surprised Their Mother.

Mrs. Carloda Evans, living southwest of Maryville, was given a happy surprise Sunday by her children and grandchildren, who invited a company of friends to her home to spend the day, to celebrate her fifty-fifth birthday anniversary. The day was delightful and happy to all, but especially to the hostess, after she had recovered from the surprise caused by the arrival of her self-invited guests. Mrs. Evans received several nice gifts, besides a great post card shower, and all her friends wish her many more happy birthday anniversaries. Her guests were her children, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Evans and children, Evelyn and Kenneth; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Evans and son, Earl, and Paul and James Evans, who live at home with their mother. FRANK A. CAFFRAY

Reader, Impersonator, Entertainer

Tonight at the Presbyterian Church

This is really the Caffrey boy and lived in Maryville when a very small boy.

Mr. Caffray is one of the youngest men on the platform today. He is graduate of the Northwestern School of Oratory, and while young has been before the public all his life. Much of Mr. Caffray's experience has been before audiences in Chicago, New York and other large cities.

Mr. Caffrey, whose readings I have heard with the keenest delight, is a strong interpreter of English and his characterizations of Dickens, Longfellow, Riley, Burdette and others are realistic. JOS. GERARD, Principal of Schools, Meriden, Conn.

It was a very pleasant and entertaining evening when on last Friday I had the pleasure of listening to the readings of Mr. Frank Caffrey. It appears to me he is just in his element when so engaged. I certainly was delighted myself.

Baltimore, July 2.—Woodrow Wilson reached the coveted 500 mark on the 39th ballot. He held his precarious position through the 40th ballot. Then he began to slip. On the next ballot he dropped below the half thousand mark.

Opponents of the New Jersey man greeted the decline of his vote with cheers. "Good-bye, Woodrow," was shouted by Clark men.

Many are predicting that Wilson, having made his spurt and failed to land the prize, will now drop back into the ruch with Clark. The convention-wise are watching the back stretch for the flash of the expected "dark horse."

Gave and Took Away.

Michigan gavo Wilson his biggest boost. Then it handed him his hardest jolt. The Wolverine state took 15 votes away from Clark early in the night and gave them to the governor. That failed to start a stampede, and on the 42d ballot Michigan gave back six of the 15 to Clark. Following this National Committeeman Wood announced that on the next ballot the majority of the delegation would desert Wilson.

The reactionary lines are holding with unexpected firmness and the looked for breaks in Illinois and Washington have not materialized.

It was drip, drip, drip all day and early in the night for Wilson with as steady a slipping away from Champ Clark. Throughout the early part of the night, there were no big breaks, except one of 15 in Michigan. But the speaker would lose one vote in one state and two in another, while Wilson would make virtually the same gains.

Early in the day the jumps were larger, but later the changes settled down to two or three or four to a ballot.

Clark started with 469 in the morning and it was not until the ninth ballot of the day, the first taken in the evening session, that his vote had settled to 433½, but then the decline seemed impossible of being stopped.

Climbing Was Slow.

At the same time Wilson, who had started at 406½, had gradually accumulated strength. On the first ballot of the evening, the 39th of the convention, he had reached 494½. Four more ballots, however, were required to put him over the 500 mark.

The convention became nervous as the balloting proceeded. The Clark men kept hearing reports that Illinois was on the point of breaking away, and every time that the chairman of the delegation shouted "Clark 58" a round of applause came from the speaker's ranks.

Cheers greeted the first important break of the evening when Michigan increased its Wilson vote from 12 to 27.

Telegrams continued to pour in on the delegates urging the nomination of the New Jersey governor.

Clark Back in Baltimore.

Clark came to Baltimore in a motor car from Washington. He went to the home of Mayor James H. Preston, where he remained until a late hour at night and then returned to the capital. Mayor Preston has a well organized boom for vice-president. The purpose of Clark's visit to the mayor is not known, but until it was known that he had left the city the crowd in the convention refused to give up hope that he would appear and start something.

There was a disposition early in the evening to believe that a candidate might be nominated. That hope went glimmering after the Underwood forces, following a poll of their delegates, announced that they would "stand pat" and Illinois, which had been reported as wavering, decided that it would not change from Clark.

The slow, vacillating rise and fall of the vote of favorite candidates throughout the day had increased the steadily growing bitterness of the last week, and at night a match of offense, touched to the excitement, would have set the entire convention ablaze.

It was on this situation that many leaders based hopes of a final vote and a nomination before the night was over. They argued that the weary delegates, tired by a week of work, would break from the hard and fast lines they have been holding and throw enough votes to one of the candidates to end the agony of suspense.

Delegates in Bad Humor.

As the night wore on and ballot after ballot was taken without result, the temper of the delegates grew worse. Every shifting vote, every demand for the poll of a delegate awakened the bitterness that lay beneath the proceedings. Hisses, half-hearted cheers and jeers greeted the few changes in each succeeding ballots.

This spirit was also shown at times in the audience, and the police were forced to remove offenders who became involved in quarrels.

The length of the deadlock is now problematic.

The Clark men say that they can and will prevent the nomination of Wilson. They say that while he may reach 560, that figure will be his absolute high mark and that, once reached, Wilson, like Clark, will slide back.

The Underwood forces are likely to hold the balance of power for 24 hours. They have lost only two of the solid delegates, they being the Florida delegates who broke away.

The leaders all agreed at midnight that the deadlock was still very much in force and none would venture any prediction how or when it will be broken and a nomination made.

At 12:30 a. m. the convention adjourned, to re-convene at noon.

SENATOR ATTACKS NOMINATION

Works, of California, Presents Senate Resolution to Investigate Recent Taft Campaign.

Washington, July, 2. — Senator Works of California, Republican, presented in the senate a resolution to investigate recent campaign contributions and expenditures, declaring that President Taft's renomination had been procured unjustly and illegally.

California needed no new party, he said, and the Republican party might better go down to defeat for the sins of its leaders and come up four years hence than to form a new party.

The resolution stirred the Senate, but was not acted upon. Mr. Works charged that men sent to Washington to discharge public duties had been giving their time to carry on political campaigns.

SESSION ENDS IN NEAR-RIOT

Missouri Delegation Displayed a Banner Which Infuriated Bryan.

THREE FIST FIGHTS AT ONCE

Howling, Angry Mob, Finally Brought Partly to Order—Police to Arrest Next Man Entering Hall With Any Banner.

Baltimore, July 2.—At the close of the 33rd ballot of the Democratic convention late in the afternoon a number of Missouri delegates arose and unfurled a long white streamer upon which was painted:

"I have known Champ Clark 18 years. He is absolutely incorruptible and his life is above reproach. Never in all of these years have I known him to be upon but one side of a question and that was the side that represented the people—W. J. Bryan in 1910."

The display was the signal for Clark demonstration that started at 4:25 o'clock.

"Take it over where Bryan can see it," called a delegate. "Take it to Nebraska."

The men with the banner marched to the left side of the hall and Bryan pushed by a crowd of friends and aided by the police, rushed angrily to the stand.

"Take It Away."

"Take it away," was all he would say. His face was red with rage. He complained to John E. Lamb of Indiana, who was in the chair, of the indignity. A riotous scene followed.

"Fold up that banner," commanded the sergeant-at-arms.

"Roll it up," chorused a crowd that mounted the speaker's stand and stood on the tables. Bryan came back down the steps from the platform and became the center of a pushing shouting demonstration-mad mob that almost swept him from his feet. For six minutes the demonstration had raged when Bryan saw the futility of attempting to go back to his place and returned to the platform. The banner was taken to the press stand. A newspaper man was thrown from the stand into the aisle. Three fights took place in the stand in less than a minute.

Police charged down the stairs of the stand into the fighting, shouting mob. Men and women stood on chairs on the tables of the press stand and the excitement was intense. Ollie James came back to the chair and tried to quell the riot. Every delegate in the convention was on his chair and women stood in the midst of the exciting scene and screamed as men fought around them.

Bryan Tried to Speak.

Bryan in the meantime stood in the speaker's stand and faced the great mob—for it was a mob—and with the lines of his face tightly drawn, he leaned far over the stand and gazed intently at the delegates as they came to order after the storm.

Ollie James declared that he would have the noisest section of the galleries cleared. He made a strong and heated statement of his position to the galleries and then announced the vote.

While he announced it Bryan stood by his side, looking for an opening for a speech. Theodore E. Bell of California, who came behind him to ask a question, got the floor.

"The gentleman from Nebraska rises to a question of personal privilege," said the chairman. "He will state it. Then the chair will decide whether he has a right to speak upon it or not."

"Mr. Chairman, I was seated with my delegation when a banner was placed in front of us," said Bryan. "I asked those in charge of it to remove it from that place.

"If that was the unauthorized act of those who brought it, then I have nothing to say, but if Missouri's delegation was responsible, then I claim the right to answer."

This brought a big cheer and more noise from the gavel. Chairman James ruled against Bryan and there was more cheering.

Bryan made his way to his place under police escort.

Chairman James then gave this order:

"I direct the police and the sergeant-at-arms to arrest the next man who comes into this hall with a banner of any kind."

The convention then adjourned until 8 p. m.

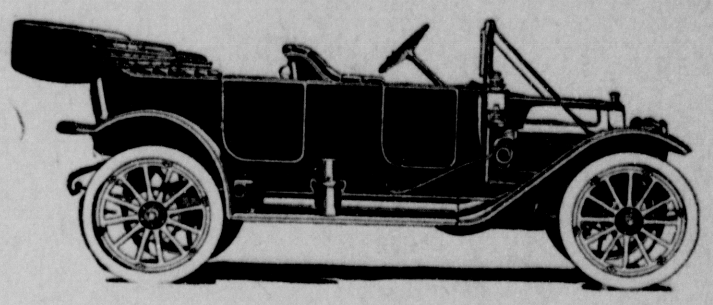
Car Load of

E. M. F. Autos

Arrived Tuesday, June 25th. Be sure and get one.



The Studebaker E. M. F. "30" has a tremendous price advantage.

No other car, offering as much value, approaches its price.

Think for a moment what you get when you buy a Studebaker E. M. F. "30."

It is a real car, modern throughout in design and construction, large enough, and so powerful that you will never find road conditions in which your Studebaker E. M. F. "30" ann ot spin its wheels.

The motor is a marvel, very speedy, quick to pick up, flexible, the kind of a motor a driver grows to like and have full confidence in.

The Studebaker E. M. F. "30" transmission system is of the standard three speed type, any car speed you wish up to 55 miles an hour. The rear axle is remarkably well designed and built, giving the best of service.

Every Studebaker E. M. F. "30" body gets 17 coats of paint and varnish, which are properly rubbed and aged. If you take care of your car, your Studebaker body will equal any automobile body on the market.

These are some obvious points which show the car's value.

But the deeper you go into the design and manufacture of the Studebaker E. M. F. "30" the better you will like it. We watch every detail.

Every Studebaker E. M. F. "30" is built not only for the first mile but for the 100,000th mile. In those qualities which make for endurance and lasting satisfaction, the Studebaker E. M. F. "30" is incomparably first. Why? Because it is Studebaker-built, and Studebaker always builds that way.

BURNS FINED FOR CONTEMPT

Frequent Clashes of Attorneys Mark Darrow Trial.

DEFENSE LAWYER MUST ALSO PAY

Judge Hutton Determined Not to Permit Personal Difficulties to Interfere in Conduct of Case.

Los Angeles, July 2.—William J. Burns, the detective who brought about the arrest of the McNamaras, took the stand late in the day in the trial of Clarence S. Darrow for Jury bribery.

Five minutes after his direct examination was begun by District Attorney Frederick, Mr. Burns asked the protection of the court and a short time later was fined $25 for contempt. A similar fine was imposed upon Chief Counsel Earl Rogers of the defense at the same time.

Judge Hutton announced when imposing the fines that he would not allow the personal difficulties between Rogers and Burns to interfere with the orderly conduct of the trial.

The outbreak was precipitated by Mr. Darrow's reference in the course of an objection to Burns as a "wonderful man." He immediately withdrew the remark, saying it was "untrue" and Rogers audibly asked him not to withdraw it. Burns, turning to the court, resented the action of Rogers.

Wanted Protection.

Burns continued his statement by declaring that Rogers had denounced him in open court as a suborner of perjury.

"Yes, and I repeat it again," shouted Rogers.

The detective appealed for the protection of the court.

He mentioned incidentally that Rogers had accused him of carrying a sword cane. "Here is the little cane," he said. "That is untrue."

Burns' direct examination was brief, being confined chiefly to corroboration of evidence of the detective, Biddinger, who preceded him on the stand and no new facts were adduced. His cross-examination will begin when the trial is resumed in the morning.

LIGHTNING CAUSED EXPLOSION

Nitro-Glycerin Factory Struck, Setting Off 1,050 Quarts—One Man Blown to Bits.

Muskogee, Ok., July 2.—The nitroglycerin plant of the Dupont company on the N. B. Moore ranch near Haskell, Ok., was struck by lightning killing J. O'Brien, whose body was shattered completely. J. H. Hesberger narrowly escaped. He was working directly in front of the mixer, which contained 1,050 quarts of nitroglycerin which exploded, and he was not injured severely. O'Brien was some distance away. The plant stood on a bluff of the Arkansas river. Thousands of fish were killed by the explosion and a farmhouse a quarter of a mile away was unroofed. A magazine in which an additional 1,500 quarts of nitro-glycerin was stored was not exploded.

WILL HELP WILSON DELEGATES

LONG SESSION HAS MADE EXPENSES HEAVY.

Jersey City Men Pledge $5,000 to Keep Governor's Men on the Job to the Finish.

Seargirt, N. J. July 2.—A pledge of $5,000 to pay the bills of Wilson delegates to the Baltimore convention was made by Samuel Ludlow, Jr., a banker of Jersey City, and Joseph E. Bernstein, a merchant of the same place. Their announcement was made following a conference with Gov. Wilson.

Reports from Baltimore that on account of the extended session many of the delegates were "hard up," caused the Jersey City men to come here to make their offer.

"We are not going to permit Gov. Wilson's fight for the presidency to fail at this crisis for the lack of funds," said Mr. Ludlow after the conference. "We will be prepared to pay the hotel bills and other living expenses which the Wilson delegates at Baltimore are unable to pay.

"We expect to spend at least $5,000 that way. If necessary, we can raise $50,000 in 24 hours and will do so. We will pay any sum needed to keep these men in Baltimore."

Mr. Ludlow and Mr. Berstein notified Gov. Wilson before coming here what they were prepared to do. The governor told them he had also heard that the delegates were in need of funds. Mr. Ludlow said that he and Mr. Bernstein would appear in Baltimore by 8 o'clock in the morning ready to aid the needy Wilson supporters.

TO PRESERVE EGGS ON FARM

Poultry Department of University of Missouri Recommends "Water Glass."

It is possible to hold eggs in good condition from the spring months, when they are cheap, until the fall and winter days, when they are expensive. The method recommended by the Poultry Department of the University of Missouri is that which uses "water glass," chemically known as "sodium silicate." It costs about 30 cents a quart, or $1 a gallon, and can be purchased from any drug store or ordered from poultry supply houses. One part of the "water glass" to nine parts of water is the proportion used to make the preserving solution.

First be sure that the eggs are strictly fresh and clean. They should not be dirty ones that have been washed, as these do not keep so well. It is much better if they are infertile, as they are more certain to keep.

Pack the eggs in a stone crock or similar vessel, with the large ends up. This is on account of the air space in the large end. Pour over the solution. From time to time it may be necessary to add to the solution to make up for evaporation.

The eggs should keep six months or more. The flavor will be unchanged, the difference being in the "standing up" of the yolk. These eggs would not look so well for poaching, but for other purposes they are satisfactory. The cost of such preserving is slight.

Sued for Sixteen Years' Subscription.

Editor H. F. Stapel of Rock Port, in Atchison county, secured the verdict in a suit against Charles Traub for $24 for sixteen years' subscription to his paper. The Mail gives the following account of the suit:

"The suit was brought on a long standing account, and among other items was a sixteen years' subscription for the Atchison County Mail. Mr. Traub refused to pay for the Mail, claiming that he did not take the paper, and that he had refused to take the paper from the postoffice and mail box a number of times. The plaintiff proved by postmasters, deputy postmasters and others that Mr. Traub did take the paper during all these sixteen years. In the case it was shown that, according to law, even if a subscriber does occasionally order a newspaper discontinued or refuse to accept it, he cannot get out of paying what he owes for the paper, and the subscriber must pay the arrearage before stopping the paper. The jury in this case was out only a short time and brought in a verdict for the entire account, including the subscription for the Mail—sixteen years at $1.50 a year, or $24. The costs in the justice court and the circuit court amounted to about $100 besides the attorney fees."

RIVER IS GETTING LOW.

Is Maryville Going to Have Another Water Shortage This Summer?

The 102 river is getting pretty low, and in several places at the river you are able, it is said, to walk across it. Only a little water is running over the dam near the pump house. While the water company has plenty of water on hand in their lake and reservoirs, still the fact remains that the river is getting low, and that the conditions might be the same as last year in Maryville, when there was no water at all. Of course, a few good rains would help out.

FRANK A. CAFFRAY

Reader, Impersonator, Entertainer

Tonight at the Presbyterian Church

This is really the Caffrey boy and lived in Maryville when a very small boy.

Mr. Caffray is one of the youngest men on the platform today. He is graduate of the Northwestern School of Oratory, and while young has been before the public all his life. Much of Mr. Caffray's experience has been before audiences in Chicago, New York and other large cities.

Mr. Caffrey, whose readings I have heard with the keenest delight, is a strong interpreter of English and his characterizations of Dickens, Longfellow, Riley, Burdette and others are realistic. JOS. GERARD, Principal of Schools, Meriden, Conn.

It was a very pleasant and entertaining evening when on last Friday I had the pleasure of listening to the readings of Mr. Frank Caffrey. It appears to me he is just in his element when so engaged. I certainly was delighted myself.

Baltimore, July 2.—Woodrow Wilson reached the coveted 500 mark on the 39th ballot. He held his precarious position through the 40th ballot. Then he began to slip. On the next ballot he dropped below the half thousand mark.

Opponents of the New Jersey man greeted the decline of his vote with cheers. "Good-bye, Woodrow," was shouted by Clark men.

Many are predicting that Wilson, having made his spurt and failed to land the prize, will now drop back into the ruch with Clark. The convention-wise are watching the back stretch for the flash of the expected "dark horse."

Gave and Took Away.

Michigan gavo Wilson his biggest boost. Then it handed him his hardest jolt. The Wolverine state took 15 votes away from Clark early in the night and gave them to the governor. That failed to start a stampede, and on the 42d ballot Michigan gave back six of the 15 to Clark. Following this National Committeeman Wood announced that on the next ballot the majority of the delegation would desert Wilson.

The reactionary lines are holding with unexpected firmness and the looked for breaks in Illinois and Washington have not materialized.

It was drip, drip, drip all day and early in the night for Wilson with as steady a slipping away from Champ Clark. Throughout the early part of the night, there were no big breaks, except one of 15 in Michigan. But the speaker would lose one vote in one state and two in another, while Wilson would make virtually the same gains.

Early in the day the jumps were larger, but later the changes settled down to two or three or four to a ballot.

Clark started with 469 in the morning and it was not until the ninth ballot of the day, the first taken in the evening session, that his vote had settled to 433½, but then the decline seemed impossible of being stopped.

Climbing Was Slow.

At the same time Wilson, who had started at 406½, had gradually accumulated strength. On the first ballot of the evening, the 39th of the convention, he had reached 494½. Four more ballots, however, were required to put him over the 500 mark.

The convention became nervous as the balloting proceeded. The Clark men kept hearing reports that Illinois was on the point of breaking away, and every time that the chairman of the delegation shouted "Clark 58" a round of applause came from the speaker's ranks.

Cheers greeted the first important break of the evening when Michigan increased its Wilson vote from 12 to 27.

Telegrams continued to pour in on the delegates urging the nomination of the New Jersey governor.

Clark Back in Baltimore.

Clark came to Baltimore in a motor car from Washington. He went to the home of Mayor James H. Preston, where he remained until a late hour at night and then returned to the capital. Mayor Preston has a well organized boom for vice-president. The purpose of Clark's visit to the mayor is not known, but until it was known that he had left the city the crowd in the convention refused to give up hope that he would appear and start something.

There was a disposition early in the evening to believe that a candidate might be nominated. That hope went glimmering after the Underwood forces, following a poll of their delegates, announced that they would "stand pat" and Illinois, which had been reported as wavering, decided that it would not change from Clark.

The slow, vacillating rise and fall of the vote of favorite candidates throughout the day had increased the steadily growing bitterness of the last week, and at night a match of offense, touched to the excitement, would have set the entire convention ablaze.

It was on this situation that many leaders based hopes of a final vote and a nomination before the night was over. They argued that the weary delegates, tired by a week of work, would break from the hard and fast lines they have been holding and throw enough votes to one of the candidates to end the agony of suspense.

Delegates in Bad Humor.

As the night wore on and ballot after ballot was taken without result, the temper of the delegates grew worse. Every shifting vote, every demand for the poll of a delegate awakened the bitterness that lay beneath the proceedings. Hisses, half-hearted cheers and jeers greeted the few changes in each succeeding ballots.

This spirit was also shown at times in the audience, and the police were forced to remove offenders who became involved in quarrels.

The length of the deadlock is now problematic.

The Clark men say that they can and will prevent the nomination of Wilson. They say that while he may reach 560, that figure will be his absolute high mark and that, once reached, Wilson, like Clark, will slide back.

The Underwood forces are likely to hold the balance of power for 24 hours. They have lost only two of the solid delegates, they being the Florida delegates who broke away.

The leaders all agreed at midnight that the deadlock was still very much in force and none would venture any prediction how or when it will be broken and a nomination made.

At 12:30 a. m. the convention adjourned, to re-convene at noon.

SENATOR ATTACKS NOMINATION

Works, of California, Presents Senate Resolution to Investigate Recent Taft Campaign.

Washington, July, 2. — Senator Works of California, Republican, presented in the senate a resolution to investigate recent campaign contributions and expenditures, declaring that President Taft's renomination had been procured unjustly and illegally.

California needed no new party, he said, and the Republican party might better go down to defeat for the sins of its leaders and come up four years hence than to form a new party.

The resolution stirred the Senate, but was not acted upon. Mr. Works charged that men sent to Washington to discharge public duties had been giving their time to carry on political campaigns.

Chose a Speaker Pro Tem.

Washington, July 2.—After many ineffectual efforts to find Speaker Clark, Representative Alexander of Missouri was chosen speaker pro tem of the house and signed the resolution extending the annual appropriations. The speaker was believed to be in secret conference over the candidacy.

SESSION ENDS IN NEAR-RIOT

Missouri Delegation Displayed a Banner Which Infuriated Bryan.

THREE FIST FIGHTS AT ONCE

Howling, Angry Mob, Finally Brought Partly to Order—Police to Arrest Next Man Entering Hall With Any Banner.

Baltimore, July 2.—At the close of the 33rd ballot of the Democratic convention late in the afternoon a number of Missouri delegates arose and unfurled a long white streamer upon which was painted:

"I have known Champ Clark 18 years. He is absolutely incorruptible and his life is above reproach. Never in all of these years have I known him to be upon but one side of a question and that was the side that represented the people—W. J. Bryan in 1910."

The display was the signal for Clark demonstration that started at 4:22 o'clock.

"Take it over where Bryan can see it," called a delegate. "Take it to Nebraska."

The men with the banner marched to the left side of the hall and Bryan pushed by a crowd of friends and aided by the police, rushed angrily to the stand.

"Take It Away."

"Take it away," was all he would say. His face was red with rage. He complained to John E. Lamb of Indiana, who was in the chair, of the indignity. A riotous scene followed.

"Fold up that banner," commanded the sergeant-at-arms.

"Roll it up," chorused a crowd that mounted the speaker's stand and stood on the tables. Bryan came back down the steps from the platform and became the center of a pushing, shouting demonstration-mad mob that almost swept him from his feet. For six minutes the demonstration had raged when Bryan saw the futility of attempting to go back to his place and returned to the platform. The banner was taken to the press stand. A newspaper man was thrown from the stand into the aisle. Three fights took place in the stand in less than a minute.

Police charged down the stairs of the stand into the fighting, shouting mob. Men and women stood on chairs on the tables of the press stand and the excitement was intense. Ollie James came back to the chair and tried to quell the riot. Every delegate in the convention was on his chair and women stood in the midst of the exciting scene and screamed as men fought around them.

Bryan Tried to Speak.

Bryan in the meantime stood in the speaker's stand and faced the great mob—for it was a mob—and with the lines of his face tightly drawn, he leaned far over the stand and gazed intently at the delegates as they came to order after the storm.

Ollie James declared that he would have the noisest section of the galleries cleared. He made a strong and heated statement of his position to the galleries and then announced the vote.

While he announced it Bryan stood by his side, looking for an opening for a speech. Theodore E. Bell of California, who came behind him to ask a question, got the floor.

"The gentleman from Nebraska rises to a question of personal privilege," said the chairman. "He will state it. Then the chair will decide whether he has a right to speak upon it or not."

"Mr. Chairman, I was seated with my delegation when a banner was placed in front of us," said Bryan. "I asked those in charge of it to remove it from that place.

"If that was the unauthorized act of those who brought it, then I have nothing to say, but if Missouri's delegation was responsible, then I claim the right to answer."

This brought a big cheer and more noise from the gavel. Chairman James ruled against Bryan and there was more cheering.

Bryan made his way to his place under police escort.

Chairman James then gave this order:

"I direct the police and the sergeant-at-arms to arrest the next man who comes into this hall with a banner of any kind."

The convention then adjourned until 8 p. m.

Horse's Kick Fatal.

Cottonwood Falls, Kan., July 2.—Robert Newley, 21 years old, the son of William Newley, a farmer of Clements, was killed by a horse's kick received while unhitching a team. The horse's hoof struck him over the heart and caused death almost instantly.

Christian Endeavorers Elect.

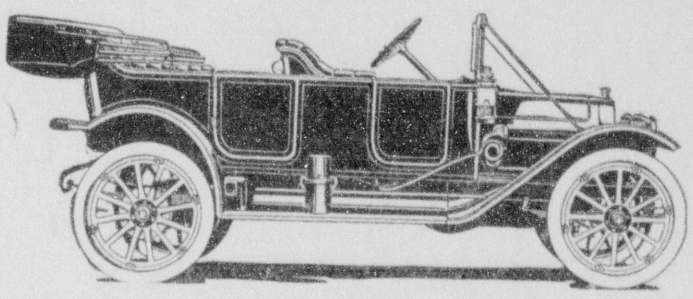
Car Load of

E. M. F. Autos

Arrived Tuesday, June 25th. Be sure and get one.



The Studebaker E. M. F. "30" has a tremendous price advantage.

No other car, offering as much value, approaches its price.

Think for a moment what you get when you buy a Studebaker E. M. F. "30."

It is a real car, modern throughout in design and construction, large enough, and so powerful that you will never find road conditions in which your Studebaker E. M. F. "30" ann ot spin its wheels.

The motor is a marvel, very speedy, quick to pick up, flexible, the kind of a motor a driver grows to like and have full confidence in.

The Studebaker E. M. F. "30" transmission system is of the standard three speed type, any car speed you wish up to 55 miles an hour. The rear axle is remarkably well designed and built, giving the best of service.

Every Studebaker E. M. F. "30" body gets 17 coats of paint and varnish, which are properly rubbed and aged. If you take care of your car, your Studebaker body will equal any automobile body on the market.

These are some obvious points which show the car's value.

But the deeper you go into the design and manufacture of the Studebaker E. M. F. "30" the better you will like it. We watch every detail.

Every Studebaker E. M. F. "30" is built not only for the first mile but for the 100,000th mile. In those qualities which make for endurance and lasting satisfaction, the Studebaker E. M. F. "30" is incomparably first. Why? Because it is Studebaker-built, and Studebaker always builds that way.

BURNS FINED FOR CONTEMPT

Frequent Clashes of Attorneys Mark Darrow Trial.

DEFENSE LAWYER MUST ALSO PAY

Judge Hutton Determined Not to Permit Personal Difficulties to Interfere in Conduct of Case.

Los Angeles, July 2.—William J. Burns, the detective who brought about the arrest of the McNamaras took the stand late in the day in the trial of Clarence S. Darrow for jury bribery.

Five minutes after his direct examination was begun by District Attorney Frederick, Mr. Burns asked the protection of the court and a short time later was fined $25 for contempt. A similar fine was imposed upon Chief Counsel Earl Rogers of the defense at the same time.

Judge Hutton announced when imposing the fines that he would not allow the personal difficulties between Rogers and Burns to interfere with the orderly conduct of the trial.

The outbreak was precipitated by Mr. Darrow's reference in the course of an objection to Burns as a "wonderful man." He immediately withdrew the remark, saying it was "untrue" and Rogers audibly asked him not to withdraw it. Burns, turning to the court, resented the action of Rogers.

Wanted Protection.

Burns continued his statement by declaring that Rogers had denounced him in open court as a suborner of perjury.

"Yes, and I repeat it again," shouted Rogers.

The detective appealed for the protection of the court.

He mentioned incidentally that Rogers had accused him of carrying a sword cane. "Here is the little cane," he said. "That is untrue."

Burns' direct examination was brief, being confined chiefly to corroboration of evidence of the detective, Biddinger, who preceded him on the stand and no new facts were adduced. His cross-examination will begin when the trial is resumed in the morning.

LIGHTNING CAUSED EXPLOSION

Nitro-Glycerin Factory Struck, Setting Off 1,050 Quarts—One Man Blown to Bits.

Muskogee, Ok., July 2.—The nitro-glycerin plant of the Dupont company on the N. B. Moore ranch near Haskell, Ok., was struck by lightning killing J. O'Brien, whose body was shattered completely. J. H. Hesberger narrowly escaped. He was working directly in front of the mixer, which contained 1,050 quarts of nitro-glycerin which exploded, and he was not injured severely. O'Brien was some distance away. The plant stood on a bluff of the Arkansas river. Thousands of fish were killed by the explosion and a farmhouse a quarter of a mile away was unroofed. A magazine in which an additional 1,500 quarts of nitro-glycerin was stored was not exploded.

WILL HELP WILSON DELEGATES

LONG SESSION HAS MADE EXPENSES HEAVY.

Jersey City Men Pledge $5,000 to Keep Governor's Men on the Job to the Finish.

Seargirt, N. J. July 2.—A pledge of $5,000 to pay the bills of Wilson delegates to the Baltimore convention was made by Samuel Ludlow, Jr., a banker of Jersey City, and Joseph E. Bernstein, a merchant of the same place. Their announcement was made following a conference with Gov. Wilson.

Reports from Baltimore that on account of the extended session many of the delegates were "hard up," caused the Jersey City men to come here to make their offer.

"We are not going to permit Gov. Wilson's fight for the presidency to fail at this crisis for the lack of funds," said Mr. Ludlow after the conference. "We will be prepared to pay the hotel bills and other living expenses which the Wilson delegates at Baltimore are unable to pay.

"We expect to spend at least $5,000 that way. If necessary, we can raise $50,000 in 24 hours and will do so. We will pay any sum needed to keep these men in Baltimore."

Mr. Ludlow and Mr. Berstein notified Gov. Wilson before coming here what they were prepared to do. The governor told them he had also heard that the delegates were in need of funds. Mr. Ludlow said that he and Mr. Bernstein would appear in Baltimore by 8 o'clock in the morning ready to aid the needy Wilson supporters.

TO PRESERVE EGGS ON FARM

Poultry Department of University of Missouri Recommends "Water Glass."

It is possible to hold eggs in good condition from the spring months, when they are cheap, until the fall and winter days, when they are expensive. The method recommended by the Poultry Department of the University of Missouri is that which uses "water glass," chemically known as "sodium silicate." It costs about 30 cents a quart, or $1 a gallon, and can be purchased from any drug store or ordered from poultry supply houses. One part of the "water glass" to nine parts of water is the proportion used to make the preserving solution.

First be sure that the eggs are strictly fresh and clean. They should not be dirty ones that have been washed, as these do not keep so well. It is much better if they are infertile, as they are more certain to keep.

Pack the eggs in a stone crock or similar vessel, with the large ends up. This is on account of the air space in the large end. Pour over the solution. From time to time it may be necessary to add to the solution to make up for evaporation.

The eggs should keep six months or more. The flavor will be unchanged, the difference being in the "standing up" of the yolk. These eggs would not look so well for poaching, but for other purposes they are satisfactory. The cost of such preserving is slight.
